WINDOW DISPLAYS STRIKING; FIRST CONTEST SUCCESS

Retail Merchants Join in Making Board of Trades Competition Attractive

HAWAIIAN NEWS COMPANY WINNER OF FIRST PRIZE

McInerney Shoe Store Takes Second and Cunha Music Company Third

At 2:30 this afternoon Secretary Brown of the Chamber of Commerce received the decision of the judges in the window display contest and announced the results as follows:
First—Hawaiian News Company, Ltd., Prize $100.
Second—McInerney Shoe Store, Prize $60.
Third—Cunha Music Company, Prize $40.
The window display will be continued this evening and large crowds are expected downtown.

Honolulu shops today spread gay and gorgeous, glittering and tasteful, utilitarian and picturesque exhibits before large crowds of patrons in the city's first window display contest. It is being held under the auspices of the board of retail trades of the Chamber of Commerce.

That the trial was a success was demonstrated long before the judges began their difficult task at 10 o'clock. In some cases the windows were scarcely finished before the hour came when every curtain had to be down and the displays stand on their merits, but in most cases the shops hummed with activity last night until midnight and after, and today when the city began its daily business and the shop windows were filled with the catenae exhibits.

Even those merchants who were somewhat inclined to be cynical of results when the project was broached by Raymond O. Brown, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, before the board of retail trades, were frankly enthusiastic this morning.

"We may not get a prize and probably will not," they said, "but this contest has stirred up public interest, it has brought people down town and directed them to the shops, and now we will certainly sell more goods."

And so the general attitude is that all entrants will be winners, whether or not one of the three prizes is awarded to them by the judges, T. M. Church, Gerrit P. Wilder and C. G. Bockus.

It was quite apparent when the public reached the business section this morning that today's display is for "business first." It is not a Fourth of July or a Christmas display. There is little scenery in the windows and very many samples of the goods inside the various stores. And where the scenic effects are used, they are so handled as to direct attention to the wares of the merchants.

From Gold Cream to Typewriters.
The window display contest shows that anything a merchant has to sell may be used effectively for decoration, from gold cream to typewriters. And, in fact, it is in some of these very lines of the strictly utilitarian that the most strikingly appealing displays are made.

Yesterday a shoe merchant, commenting on the interest aroused among his business acquaintances by the contest, said: "It's all right for the stores which sell all sorts of pretty, fluffy things, of things of wealth. But in other lines it is hard to make an artistic display, and furthermore, the modern idea is to group your offerings so as to center attention on them instead of on the window they are in."

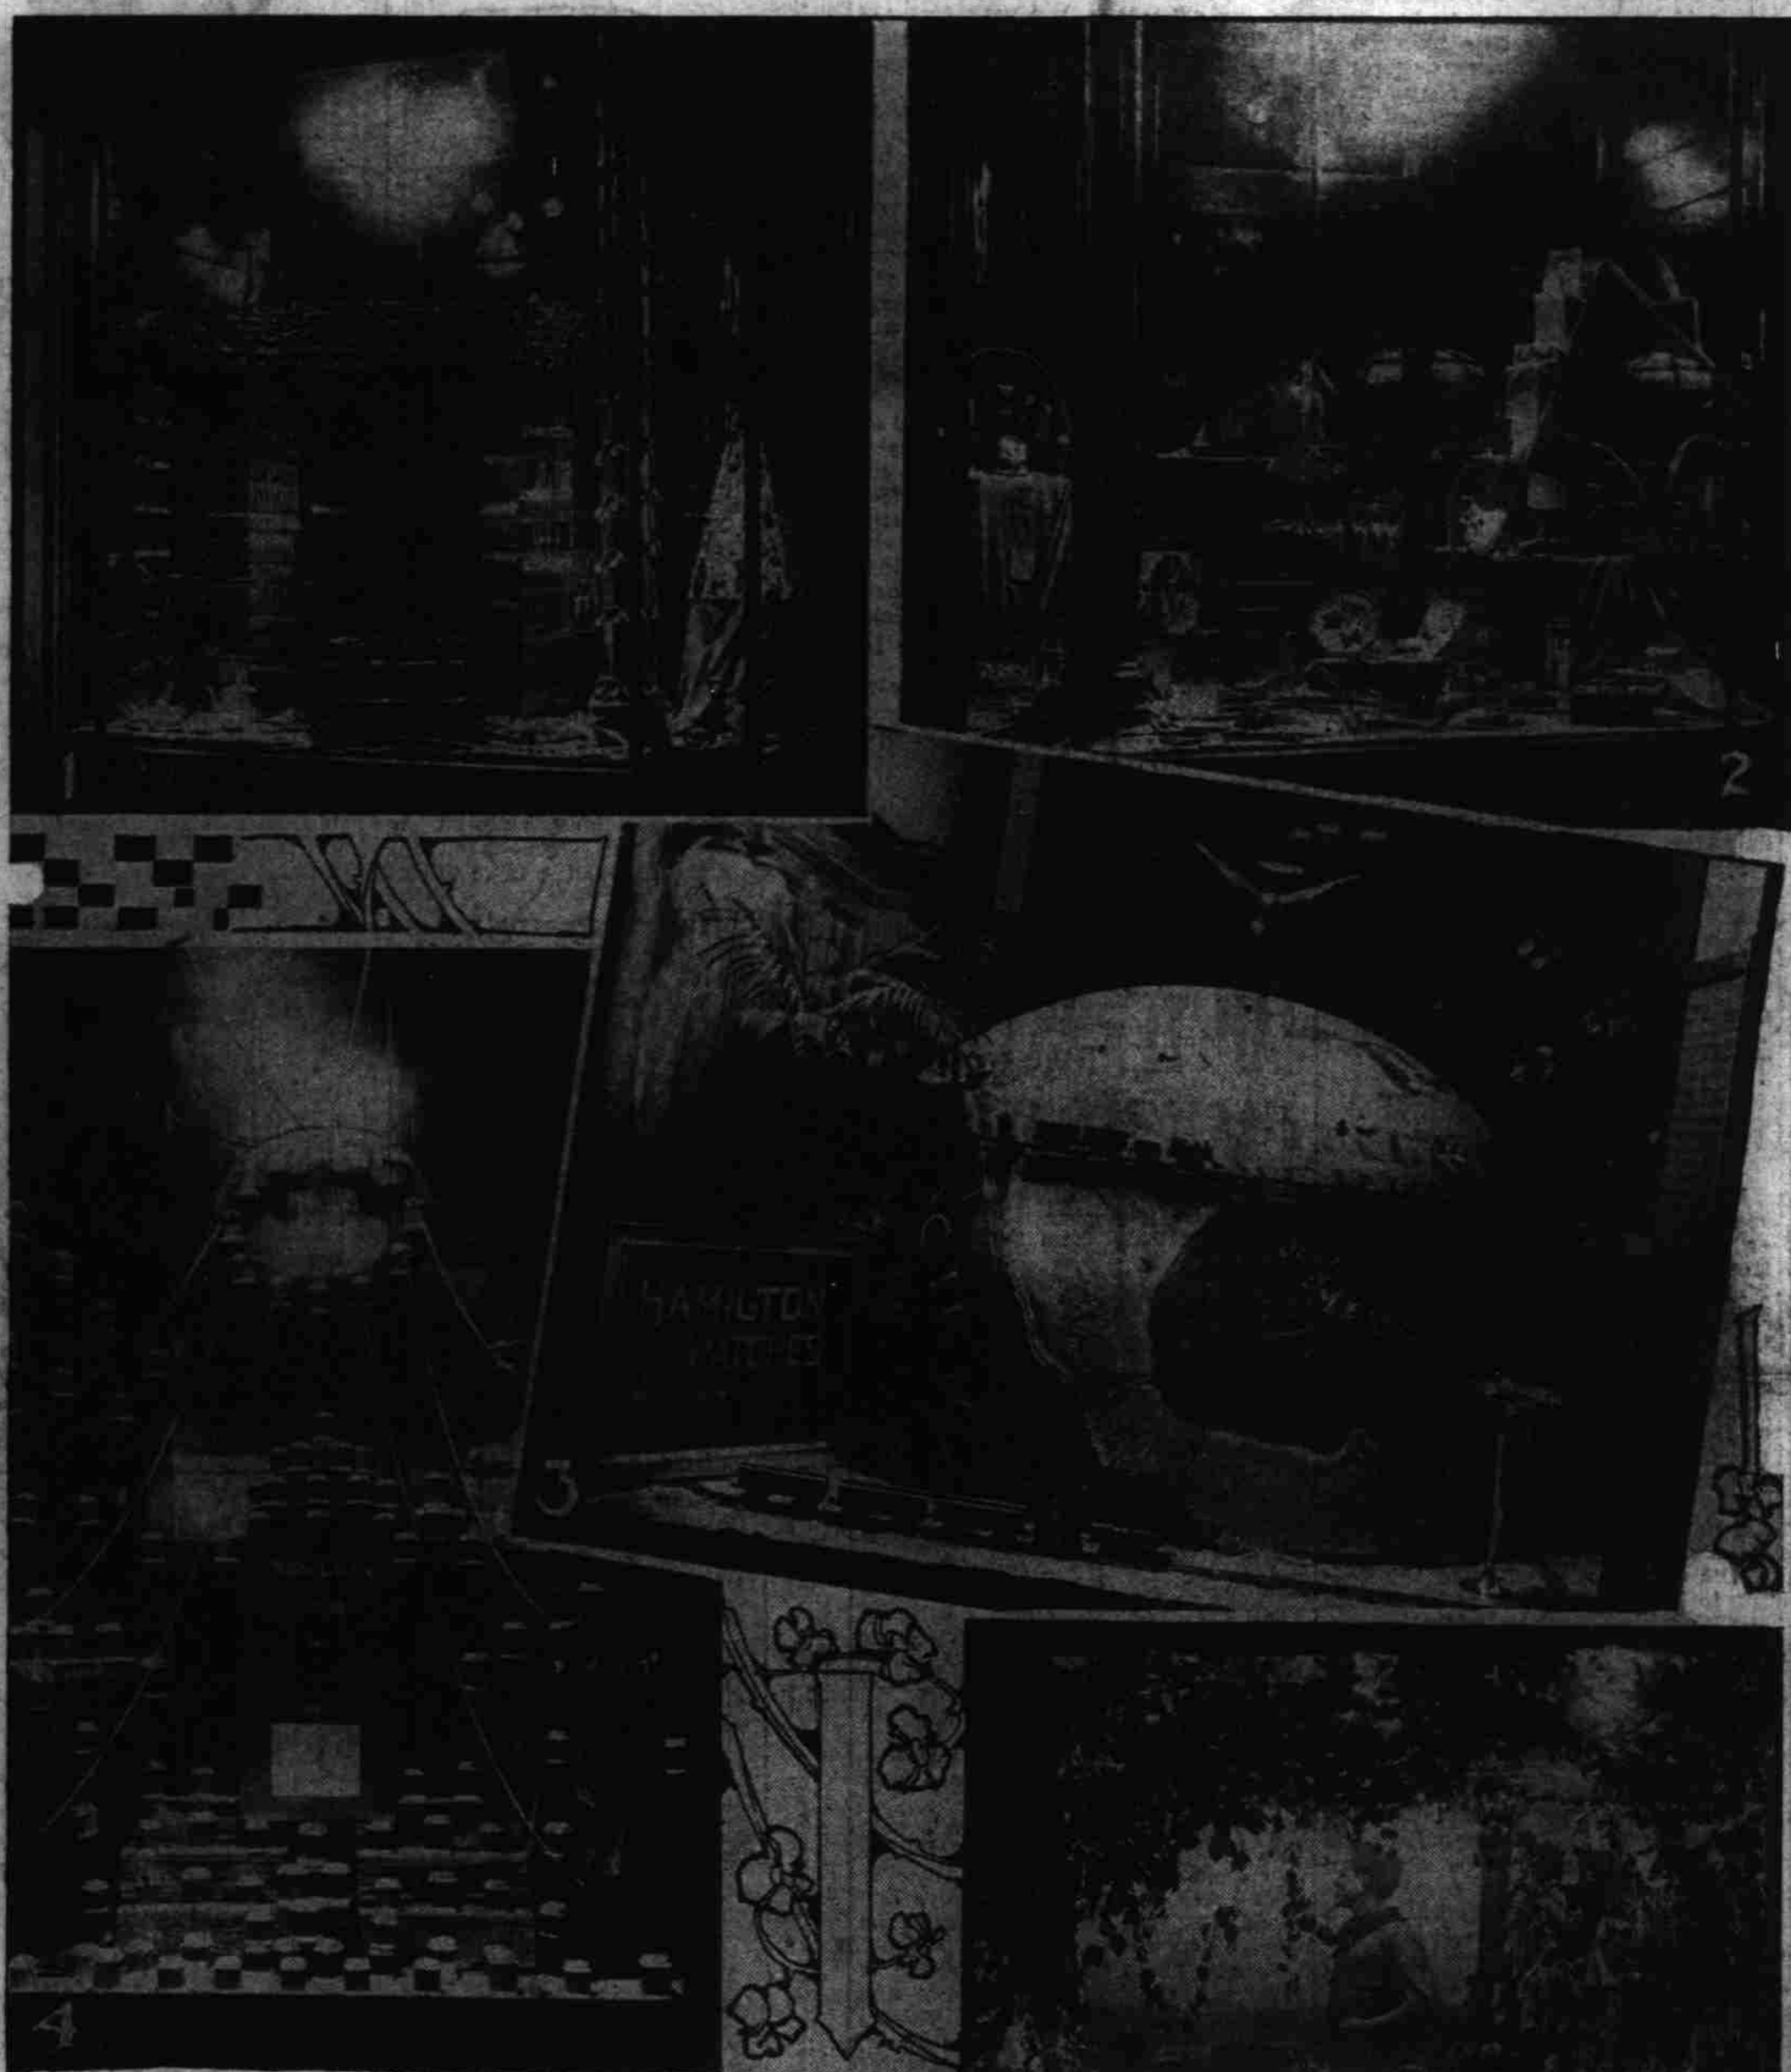

Yet inspection of this particular merchant's windows shows no cause for dissatisfaction with lack of the artistic. He has made his windows extremely attractive by using what he has to sell—shoes.

It was no easy task that confronted the judges when they sallied forth on their tour of inspection. There was the big difficulty of comparing, say, the window of a drygoods establishment with the window of a hardware store, or the display of a haberdashery with the display of a grocer.

Working steadily on the decision end of the contest the judging committee composed of T. M. Church, chairman; Gerrit P. Wilder and C. G. Bockus, accompanied by Raymond O. Brown, moved from window to window all morning, giving careful consideration to all the details of each, and at 1:30 today the final awarding of prizes had not been determined.

Following a fixed plan the committee covered the entire route along which displays were situated, first by automobile, to get a general and comprehensive view of the windows. The automobile was then abandoned and the committee began work on

Five Exhibits Which Attract Much Attention From Crowds Viewing Competition Of Honolulu Merchants

Herewith are shown a few of the many shop-windows which make special appeal today. No. 1 is the notable silverware window of H. F. Wichman & Co., Ltd., displaying Fairfax silverware in glittering variety. No. 2 is the suggestive novelty window of the same firm. No. 3 shows the remarkably original and appropriate display which forms part of the exhibit of Wall & Dougherty and calls attention to the noted Hamilton watch. No. 4 is the Maile Peroxide Cream window of Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., and No. 5 is the "outdoor window" of the Honolulu Photo Supply Company. HILO CHINESE RUNS AMUCK AND SHOOT A FRIEND

[Special Star-Bulletin Wireless]
HILO, Hawaii, Nov. 20.—An Hip, a prominent Chinese, was shot twice yesterday afternoon by a fellow-countryman, Leong Wah Chong, on Front street at 5:30 o'clock. The man fired three shots, one of which went through his victim's liver, the other through an arm. Afterward the Chinese defied the whole town, until Deputy Sheriff Martin fired two rifle shots at him in Moheau park.
The Chinese desperado's running amuck caused tremendous excitement in Hilo. Great crowds of people watched the gunman defy the officers and the crowd.
The row was over money claimed for some transaction. The man had only four cartridges in his revolver, one unused, when he was rushed and taken prisoner.
Ah Hip will recover.

Following the first round on foot a second trip was taken over the majority of windows again, and so on down tending to final decision. Judging was not made on a percentage of allowances for different details such as beauty or uniqueness, but each

MARCELLINO GETS TERM IN PRISON

Embezzler, Sentenced to Five Years, Will Serve Two Under Concurrent Rule

Indictment charging embezzlement of $5460—Two years.
Indictment charging embezzlement of $1500—One year.
Second indictment charging embezzlement of $1500—One year.
Indictment charging embezzlement of $1250—One year.
Amount of alleged embezzlements, $9720.
Total sentence, five years.

This is a summary of the sentence meted out by Circuit Judge Ashford today to John Marcellino, former clerk in Circuit Judge Whitney's court, against whom the territorial jury returned four indictments charging him with embezzlements totaling $9720.

Sentence was pronounced following a spirited address by City Attorney A. M. Brown, who asked that a substantial penalty—a prison term—be imposed in each case. The court, therefore, sentenced Marcellino to serve two years at hard labor in the case involving the largest embezzlement, that of $5460, and one year at hard labor in each of the remaining three cases.

The court, however, designated that the sentences run concurrently. This means that Marcellino will serve only two years in jail, although sentenced

PRESIDENT FOR NON-PARTISAN DEFENSE PLAN

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.—Clearly indicating his determination to win Republican as well as Democratic support to his program for national military defense, President Wilson has asked Senator Jacob Gallinger, the New Hampshire veteran Republican, and Representative James Mann of Illinois, the Republican house leader, to confer with him upon defense matters before Congress opens.

He is making a fight for non-partisan action in favor of the plans he has worked out with cabinet heads and military and naval experts. He plans also to confer with the Republican members of the military and naval committees of both houses.

CRIMSON IS WINNER WITH RECORD SCORE

Haughton's Pupils Roll Up Greatest Tally Ever Recorded Against Eli; Mahan Stars With Five Touchdowns

BLUE LACKS OFFENSE; DEFENSE IS PUNCTURED

Plans of New Haven Eleven Upset By Fumble in First Few Minutes Which Harvard Converts Into Touchdown; Atherton Gilman of Honolulu Plays Tackle

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 20.—With a final score of 41 to 0, Harvard's sturdy football team today triumphed over the Yale warriors in a great battle in the stadium—but a battle that was unexpectedly one-sided and which brought bitter disappointment to the supporters of the Elis.

The score was the largest a Harvard team ever made against Yale and was largely rolled up by the Harvard captain, Eddie Mahan, whose clever runs and ability to smash the line resulted in five touchdowns for the Crimson. He kicked four goals.

Combined with a dashing offense and a knack of following the ball which took advantage of Yale fumbles, Percy Haughton's men had also a gallant defense. Once Yale got the ball on Harvard's six yard line but in four attempts could not gain an inch and lost the pigskin, whereupon it was speedily kicked out of the danger zone and the Blues never had another chance like it.

YALE PLANS UPSET

Before the battle was five minutes old Yale had been given a disheartening setback. Right Half Bingham of the Blues fumbled the ball and Left End Harte of Harvard pounced on it and sped down the field for a touchdown. The rapidity with which the Crimson had scored seemed to take away much of Yale's confidence and plainly upset the team's plans for carrying on the gridiron campaign.
The whole story of the disaster for Yale may be summed up in the statement that Harvard had a consistent and variegated attack and was steady on defense, while Yale utterly failed to show anything like a real variety offense. Her charging in the line was slow, the backs could not gain and the ends were unable to help in the interference, or, on the defense, to stop the skirting runs of the Haughton pupils.

When the first half ended with the score 27 to 0 against the Blue, the story of the day was told. Harvard

JAIL TERMS FOR CASH AND CULLEN

Men Who Pleaded Guilty to Assault at Riedel Home Will Each Serve 3 Months

As the result of an escapee having a close bearing on the city jail scandal, which now is under investigation by the territorial grand jury, Sylvester Cullen, former traffic policeman, and Charles Cash, former inmate of the jail today were sentenced by Circuit Judge Ashford to each serve three months in the city lockup and pay the costs, the charge in this instance being that they assaulted Mrs. Hans Riedel. On the charge that they assaulted Riedel himself, sentence was suspended for 13 months in each case.

The complaints alleged that on the night of October 30 Cullen and Cash visited the home of Riedel and his wife and assaulted them. Riedel was one of the witnesses in the grand jury's investigation of the city jail scandal exposed by the Star-Bulletin. After more than a week of deliberation, Cullen and Cash pleaded guilty.

When the cases were called up for sentence this morning, Attorney Leon Straus, representing the defendants, stated to the court that he wanted to put on some testimony to show that "there was no assault at all."
Robert C. Wilcott, who served time in jail for passing a worthless check, and who was a witness before the grand jury in the early stages of the jail investigation, was called to the witness stand. He testified that he
